

Course Code: CS1927 Name of the Programme: BCA (Hons.) Name of the Course: English Communication Semester: II
Course Credit	No. of Hours Per Week (L+T+P)	Total No. of Teaching Hours
2	0:1:2	45
Course Objectives:
a) Improve students' ability to read, understand, and analyze technical and academic texts.
b) Develop effective writing skills for academic, technical, and professional communication.
c) Enhance grammar, vocabulary, and sentence structure for clear and accurate language use.
d) Train students to organize and present ideas logically and confidently in formal written communication.

Course outline (Syllabus of the course)

Module - 1: Fundamentals of English Comprehension	No. of Hours
	6
Introduction to Reading Strategies, Skimming and scanning, identifying main ideas and supporting details, Understanding Context and Inference, Contextual clues, making inferences, Analyzing Text Structures, recognizing patterns (cause-effect, compare-contrast), Identifying thesis statements and arguments.
Module - 2: Vocabulary Building and Usage	No. of Hours
	6
Expanding Technical Vocabulary, Common terms in computer science and IT, Using glossaries and technical dictionaries, Synonyms, Antonyms, and Homonyms, Enhancing word choice, Avoiding common errors, Contextual Vocabulary Usage, Application in sentences and paragraphs, Precision in technical writing.
Module - 3 : Writing Skills Development	No. of Hours
	6
Sentence Structure and Clarity, Constructing clear and concise sentences Avoiding run-on sentences and fragments, Paragraph Development, Topic sentences and supporting details Coherence and cohesion, Essay and Report Writing, Structure of essays and technical reports, Writing introductions, body paragraphs, and conclusions

Module - 4 : Technical Writing and Documentation	No. of Hours
	6
Writing Technical Descriptions and Definitions, describing processes and systems, defining technical terms clearly, Creating User Manuals and Guides, Writing instructional content, Using visuals and diagrams effectively, Research and Citation Skills, Conducting research for technical writing, Proper citation and avoiding plagiarism.
Module - 5 : Effective Communication Skills	No. of Hours
	6
Presentation Skills, Structuring presentations, Effective use of visual aids, Professional Email and Correspondence, Email etiquette, writing formal and informal emails, Collaborative Writing and Peer Review, working in teams, Reviewing and editing peers' work.

Course Outcomes:
a)	Apply reading strategies to comprehend and analyze technical and academic texts, identifying main ideas and inferring meaning.
b)	Use technical vocabulary, synonyms, and antonyms accurately to enhance clarity and precision in writing.
c)	Construct clear, coherent sentences and well-structured essays, reports, and technical documents.
d)	Demonstrate effective communication skills by delivering presentations, writing emails, and collaborating on professional writing tasks.

Text Book:
1	Greenall, S., & Swan, M. Effective reading . Cambridge University Press. ISBN: 978-0521317603